Good morning Mr. Spooner,

I am following up on the highlighted information below and cited directly below:

“My second concern relates to records I've seen that refer to a "password protected BoardDocs website." See, e.g., page 226 of Production 2. This again suggests the possibility that some records were being shielded from public access, perhaps improperly. (I'm not sure whether there is more than one such site, but, by way of example, when I tried to access fcps.edu/equity/anti-racism-anti-bias-education-policy, I got the message: "Not authorized to access this page.") Please let me know whether the password protected sites have been reviewed for responsive records.”

I have confirmed that while the BoardDoc site was discussed as an option for managing updates and correspondence, it was never used and there are no plans to use this as a means to store records in the future. The website you reference was removed as policy work was paused and the information was not up to date. This website does not exist and that is why the link does not work.

There are some remaining items that need to be addressed in your emails and I am working to answer those in separate emails.

Thank you,

Molly Shannon
